SCHEDULE “B” TO BY-LAW NO. 2023-0113

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description of Property

The property at 517 Main Street is located along the southeast side of Main Street at the intersection of Main and Prince Streets in Glen Williams. The property contains a two-storey brick structure with gable roof and rear two-storey addition.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The property at 517 Main Street has physical and design value as a representative vernacular nineteenth-century brick commercial building within the community of Glen Williams. The red and buff brick building, with gable roof, rubble stone foundation and wooden architectural detailing makes the Williams-Wheeler store an excellent example of early European development in the mid-nineteenth century in the Glen. The historic wooden storefront with wooden panels, display windows and recessed entry, along with the one-storey shed-roofed porch reflect those characteristics typical of mid-nineteenth century commercial buildings in Ontario, while the dichromatic brickwork and detailing reflect the use of local materials, as well as prosperity of the industrialist Williams family.

The property at 517 Main Street has significant historical and associative value due to its associations with the Williams Family, Wheeler Family, and the European settlement and early growth of Glen Williams. The Wheeler-Williams Store was constructed by leading community figure Charles Williams, son of Glen Williams founder Benajah Williams, an industrialist, Justice of the Peace, and the first Postmaster in the community. The store was also run for decades by members of the Wheeler Family, with four members of the family serving as postmasters in the hamlet between 1885 and 1972. The Williams-Wheeler Store reflects the mid-19th century development of the community as the first post office and the early prosperity of industrialists in Glen Williams.

The property at 517 Main Street has significant contextual value as a landmark along Main Street in the heart of Glen Williams. The Williams-Wheeler Store has stood in this location since 1856, before Confederation, and has remained an integral part of the community since its construction. One of several mid-nineteenth century buildings along Main Street, the Williams-Wheeler Store at 517 Main Street is physically, visually, and historically linked to its surroundings in Glen Williams. Functionally, the Williams-Wheeler Store has served as a public destination since the mid-nineteenth century as a store and post office and has continued to serve as a landmark community hub and restaurant. The Williams-Wheeler store contributes to the heritage character and cultural heritage value of the community and is an integral part of the historic core of Glen Williams.

Heritage Attributes

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 517 Main Street that contribute to its physical and design value include:

- The location, setback, and orientation of the two-storey building along Main Street in Glen Williams;
- The scale, form, and massing of the two-storey building, including the gable roof with returning eaves and rubble stone foundation;
- The materials, including red and buff brick, wooden storefront windows and entry surround, and wooden porch;
- On the front (northwest) elevation:
  - The historical wooden storefront with wooden lower panel, display windows with wooden muntins and recessed entry;
  - The one-storey shed-roofed porch with wooden columns;
  - The symmetrically placed flat-headed windows at the second storey with dichromatic brick voussoirs;

- The red brick façade including decorative dichromatic brickwork throughout, including buff brick quoining at the corners;
