Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

Historic or Associative Value

This cemetery is located at Con 1 Part of Lot 42, in the former Township of Colchester South. Historical records and grave markers reveal that several members of Colchester's earliest pioneer families are interred here, including John Snider and his wife Elizabeth, United Empire Loyalists and one of the earliest settlers to the area.

The Tofflemire Snider Cemetery is also symbolic of the collaboration of Colchester's earliest pioneers and the beginning of a longstanding relationship between many of the original settler families of the area, as many neighbouring pioneers began to share the cemetery by interring their own graves in the plot. This is evidence by the presence of gravemarkers belonging to the Buchanans, Tofflemire, Beeman and Brush families.

Description of Heritage Attributes

Heritage attributes that contribute to the heritage value of the cemetery at con 1 Part of Lot 42, in the former township of Colchester South, are:

- Final resting place of Colchester South's earliest pioneers and their family, as evidenced by grave markers
- Shared burial symbolic of collaboration between Colchester's pioneer families
