Ontario Heritage Foundation.

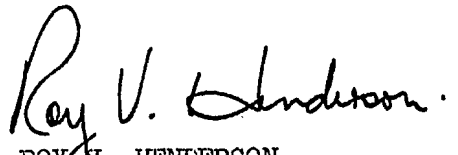

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Toronto, on the 4th day of February, 1976, decided to designate the lands and buildings, known municipally as 76 Dundas Street East, as a property of architectural and historical value or interest under The Ontario Heritage Act, 1974, 1974 S.O. Chapter 122.

Short Statement of the Reasons for the Proposed Designation:

Bond Street Congregational Church. 76 Dundas Street at Bond Street (NE). Bond Street Congregational Church, begun c. 1874 by E. J. Lennox, is recommended for designation as an important early work by one of Toronto's and Canada's most significant architects. It is also important as the outstanding example in Toronto of a U-shaped auditorium church designed for preaching, one which uses Gothic Revival style elements in an inventive and original manner. The Church is also important for its role in the streetscape and in the skyline of churches that stretches from south of Gould Street to St. James' Cathedral.

Notice of objection to the designation may be served on the Clerk within thirty days of the 13th day of February, 1976. (Reference File 0986).

Dated at Toronto this 13th day of February, 1976.

ROY V. HENDERSON
City Clerk.
