Jarmin/McQueen House
483 Dalhousie Street
Amherstburg, Ontario

REASON FOR DESIGNATION OF 483 DALHOUSIE STREET

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest:

The Jarmin/McQueen house heritage value lies in it being an example of early 20th century Spanish Renaissance Architecture also known as Pressed Brick Mission Bungalow. The building remains essentially in its original form. This building was constructed in 1912

The cultural heritage value lies in its association with well known Amherstburg mariners and the rich maritime history of the Town. The original owner Captain James Jarmin (1872-1934) was one of the pioneer skippers on the great lakes and sailed those waters for more than half a century. Captain James Earl McQueen (1891-1957) operated McQueen Marine whose tugboat fleet was very active in the maritime history of Lake Erie and the Detroit River. Both Captain Jarmin and Captain McQueen died in the house.

Description of Heritage Attributes:

Key exterior attributes that embody the heritage value of the Captain Jarmin /McQueen House include:

- The prominent siting of the house on the lot.
- Tower on the front elevation
- Vitrified brick facings (painted)

ANY PERSON may, before March 6, 2008 send by registered mail or deliver to the Clerk of the Town of Amherstburg notice of his or her objection to the proposed designation together with a statement of reasons for the objection and relevant facts.
