The Richard Coffin House is a two-storey residential building located on the south side of Ridout Street in Port Hope's historic neighborhood of "Englishtown".

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

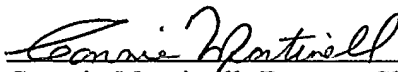

The Richard Coffin House was completed circa 1856 by English carpenter/builder Richard Coffin. The cultural heritage value of this mid-nineteenth century dwelling is evident in its fine craftsmanship. It is an excellent example of the Georgian style showcasing the unique talents of the builder who was probably also responsible for the construction of the house located at 10 Little Hope Street (on the southern portion of this lot).

The house has been sensitively and sympathetically restored recapturing the unique historic character of this heritage building.
