Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest – 440 Grey Street

Legal Description

Part Lot 14, N/E Grey Street, Plan 178(E), as in 577879, London

Description of Property

440 Grey Street is located in a residential neighbourhood on the north side of the street, between Colborne Street and Maitland Street. Contextually the residential block works to form part of an area of London, known as SoHo.

Grey Street runs in an east-west direction from Adelaide Street in the East, to the Labatt's Brewery in the west near the Thames River. The property has a rectangular lot that is similar in size and shape to neighbouring properties to the east and west. The property includes a detached one storey brick residential building, with a one storey detached structure at the rear of the parcel. The dwelling was built circa 1881. An unpaved driveway is located on the west edge of the property line.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The property located at 440 Grey Street, London, Ontario is of significant cultural heritage value because of its design value and its contextual value.

The built features of the property consist of a one storey brick residential structure. Built circa 1881, the house is an Ontario Cottage executed in buff 'London' brick and exhibits a symmetrical 3-bay façade with central doorway and flanking windows that is representative of this style. The accessory building at the rear of the property is not believed to have any cultural heritage value.

This property has contextual value because it is important in maintaining and supporting the character of the SoHo neighbourhood. The property also has contextual value due to its historical linkages to what has been an important ethnically diverse working class neighbourhood as well its association with Black settlement in London. This is characterized by the nearby Beth Emanuel Church located at 430 Grey Street. In addition, the area was also a site for the early Jewish community in London.
