STATEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE VALUE AND DESCRIPTION OF HERITAGE ATTRIBUTES

Description of Property

The Charles Billings House, 187 Billings Avenue, is a one-and-one-half-storey frame structure with wood siding that was built before 1857. It is located on the north side of Billings Avenue, immediately east of the Cavendish Road intersection within the Alta Vista neighbourhood of Billings Bridge in the City of Ottawa.

Heritage Value

The Charles Billings House has cultural heritage value for its physical value as an early pioneer cottage style house and its historical value as associated with the settlement and development of the Billings Bridge community – including several important local families; namely Billings and McKellar. Contextual value is found in the property's orientation away from the street which speaks to the age of the building and the early settlement of the community.

As an example of an early residence, the Charles Billings House is vernacular but illustrates elements of the Ontario Cottage Style, which was the most common house type in Ontario from roughly the 1830s to the 1870s. Features of the house typical of the style include the frame construction, stone foundation, one-and-one-half-storey massing, gabled roof with central gable over the entrance, and the red brick chimneys.

The shiplap siding of the house is rugged and the diamond window in the building's vestibule is the only decoration. Such houses were principally built for shelter and therefore were inspired by necessity rather than aesthetic value.

The property is historically valuable for its early associations with the Billings family and their estate which developed into the Village of Billings Bridge. Arriving in 1812, Braddish Billings was the first settler of Gloucester Township. He and his family developed and leased surrounding lands, including this property, and the area soon became the thriving Village of Billings Bridge. Known locally as 'the foreman's house', the documented history of 187 Billings Avenue begins with Archibald McKellar, a well-established Ottawa dairy farmer who began his career here while leasing the property from Billings from 1857 to 1871. After McKellar left, the family of Charles Billings, Braddish's youngest son, owned the property for three generations beginning in 1859 and lasting until 1961. Charles and his son Hugh Braddish were both prominent community members who shaped the political landscape of the village.

Contextual value is found in the property's character as one of the earliest residential structures remaining in the Alta Vista neighbourhood. The building's orientation away from the street indicates the early settlement of the area.

Heritage Attributes

Key attributes that embody the heritage value of 187 Billings Avenue as an early vernacular house include:

- One-and-one-half-storey height
- Side gabled roof with central gable above entrance
- Entrance vestibule with gable roof
- Stone foundation
- Red brick chimneys
- Wooden shiplap siding
- Diamond window in vestibule
- Rectangular window openings with wooden trim
- Exposed hand-hewn timbers visible in the interior of the historic building

Key attributes of 187 Billings Avenue that embody the historical character of the Billings Bridge community include:

- Orientation of the front entrance of the building to the west, away from Billings Avenue.

The designation is limited to the original gable-ended structure with central gable and vestibule. Later additions are not included in the designation.
