SCHEDULE “B” TO BY-LAW NO. 2023-0110

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description of Property

The property at 26 Guelph Street is located at the corner of Guelph Street and Mill Street in Georgetown, Ontario. The property contains a two-storey brick structure with raised basement level on rubble stone foundation with one-storey rear addition, surrounded by a paved parking lot and mature trees along the south and east lot lines.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The property at 26 Guelph Street has physical and design value as one of few remaining structures within Georgetown associated with early industry in the Town's communities of Georgetown and Acton. The building has retained its original scale, form, and massing as a two-storey brick structure along a historically industrial corridor along Mill Street. The existing two-storey brick building with partially exposed basement level at 26 Guelph Street is representative of turn-of-the-century industrial architecture in its simplicity of design, functionality, high ceilings, flat roof, lack of ornamentation, and flat-headed window openings. While several window openings have been infilled, the recessed brick within the window openings provides an understanding of the original solid-to-void ratios on the east and west elevations, with original window openings also extant on the front and west elevations of the building. While the angled entrance at the corner of Guelph Street and Mill Street has been altered, the form of the building reflects the original orientation of the entrance at this intersection.

The property at 26 Guelph Street has value due to its historical associations with the development of the leather industry and associated industries in both Acton and Georgetown. The H.T. Arnold Glove Factory was constructed in this location following agreement between local industrialist H.T. Arnold and his family and the Town council to establish his factory in Georgetown. The property also has historical and associative value due to its associations with prominent community member H.T. Arnold and his family members towards the end of the nineteenth century into the twentieth.

The property at 26 Guelph Street has contextual value as a long-standing landmark at the corner of Mill Street and Guelph Street. The existing building has been identified as a landmark within Downtown Georgetown and its height, visual appearance and location has served as a historical anchor at this intersection for over 120 years. The H.T. Arnold Glove Factory, now Carpet Barn Carpet One, is physically, functionally, visually, and historically linked to its surroundings within Georgetown and helps to define and maintain the character of the surrounding area as well as access to historic downtown Georgetown from the northeast.

Heritage Attributes

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 26 Guelph Street that contribute to its physical and design value include:

- The location, setback, and orientation of the existing building at the intersection of Guelph Street and Mill Street;
- The scale, form, and massing of the two-storey industrial building with partially exposed basement level and flat roof;
- The brick exterior in a running bond pattern, currently painted over;
- The northwest corner detail and reveal at Mill Street and Guelph Street, with segmentally arched window opening at the upper storey; and,
- Segmentally arched window openings throughout, including extant and legible infilled openings on the east elevation, north elevation and west elevation and stone sills where extant.

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 26 Guelph Street that contribute to its historical and associative value include:
