SCHEDULE "A"*REASONS FOR DESIGNATION*6 Church Street: Greey's Factory Building*Description

The property at 6 Church Street is recommended for designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural heritage value or interest. Located on the west side of Church Street, north of The Esplanade, the building was in place by 1903 as part of Greey's Toronto Mill Furnishings Works (with the main factory complex located directly south at 70 The Esplanade). The property was listed on the City of Toronto Inventory of Heritage Properties in 2005.

Cultural Heritage Value

The cultural heritage value of Greey's Factory Building is related to its architectural and contextual significance as a well-designed industrial building that complements the neighbouring Greey's Toronto Mill Furnishings Works Factory. Anchoring the corner of The Esplanade and Church Street, the pair of buildings contributes to the character of the St. Lawrence neighbourhood as it developed as a commercial and manufacturing district south of Front Street.

Heritage Attributes

The heritage attributes of Greey's Factory Building that relate to its cultural heritage value as part of the Greey's industrial complex are found on the principal (east) façade, the first (east) bay of the north and south walls, and the roof above the latter features. Clad with red brick and trimmed with brick and precast stone, the structure rises four stories beneath a flat roof that displays a parapet with corbelled brickwork along the east and north elevations. The east façade is organized into three bays by brick piers. In the first storey, an entry with a wood entablature is placed in the left (south) bay beside a tall segmental-arched window opening. The pairs of segmental-arched window openings in the upper floors of the east wall and on the side walls complement the fenestration on the adjacent building at 70 The Esplanade. On the north and south elevations, the first (east) bay, extending from the east façade to a brick pier and the window openings within the bay are included in the Reasons for Designation.
