TAKE NOTICE THAT the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Milton intends to designate the exterior of the house only, known municipally as 7420 Ninth Line (Bussell House) and being described as part Lot 13, Concession 9, former Township of Trafalgar, in the Town of Milton, as a property of architectural and historical value or interest under Part IV of The Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1990, c.0.18.

Reasons for the Proposed Designation:

The Bussell House is of both historical and architectural significance. The primary reasons for its architectural significance is that it is a good surviving and representative example of a grand early settlement residence (c.1865). The house was duly recognized by the Historical Atlas of Halton County in 1877 as one of the finest residences in the County and remains representative of that original dwelling and is in excellent condition. Its architectural style, floor plan, massing, proportions, windows, doorways, and construction detailing and materials are grand in scale using locally obtained materials, typical of the period.

The building also has historical significance in that it was constructed by one of the earliest settler families to Trafalgar (lands granted to his father by the Crown), who had an active and prominent role in agriculture in the community.

Notice of objection to the proposed designation, together with a statement of the reasons for the objection and all relevant facts may be served on the Clerk of the Town of Milton before the 13th day of September, 1996.

DATED AT MILTON, ONTARIO this 14th day of August 1996.

William Roberts, Town Clerk
