BY-LAW No. 1511
SCHEDULE "A"

1. CHRIST CHURCH - ANGLICAN, located at 317 Ramsay Street in the Town of Amherstburg, was built under the direction of Rev. Richard Pollard in 1805. Built by army engineers, the ceiling is constructed with native rough hewn timbers which are bound together with oaken pins and roughly formed iron bands. The nails were hand made by former slaves living a mile south at Col. Elliotts.
2. ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST CHURCH - ROMAN CATHOLIC, located at 225 Brock Street in the Town of Amherstburg, was constructed in 1844 under the direction of Father Boue. This was the only Roman Catholic Church along the Detroit River between Sandwich and Lake Erie.
3. WALLACE SMITH RESIDENCE, 259 Richmond Street, was constructed in 1850 and was used as a convent in association with the Roman Catholic Church. The original siding of clapboard has been covered over with stucco.
4. H. MURRAY SMITH RESIDENCE, 449 Dalhousie Street, formerly the Capt. Francis Bondhead Hackett Residence. He was one of the seven sons of the Bois Blanc Lighthouse Keeper. The large two storey house was built in about 1870 along Colonial lines, is presently covered in aluminum siding.
5. R. ROBERTSON RESIDENCE, 455 Dalhousie Street. This house was at one time the Capt. John T. Hutton Residence. The large two storey brick house was built about 1870 and has a Georgian appearance.
6. GARNET FOX RESIDENCE, 459 Dalhousie Street, formerly the Wm. Horseman Residence. This is a large two storey frame house in fine condition. It is late Victorian, probably built in about 1875 and has at various times been occupied by the James Flynn and A. H. Stevenson families.
7. OLD BLACKSMITH SHOP, 197 Gore Street. This building may be as early as 1840. It is the last of the early blacksmith shops in Amherstburg and was operated as such till 1977. This is a long gable roofed building which had vertical batten board siding, more recently covered with aluminum siding.
8. ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH was founded in 1828. The sanctuary which continues to be used for public worship was opened in 1846 and is located on the corner of Simcoe and Bathurst Streets. Built by public subscription, and through material and labour contributed by members of the congregation, the Church is frame in construction with oak timbers known to have come from the Botsford Farm in Malden Township.
9. ROBERT E. BONDY RESIDENCE, 207 Gore Street. This early house was owned by James Caldwell. It was probably built between 1835 and 1840. The first part was a log building which since has been added to and coated with stucco. A fine example of a very old house serving as a modern dwelling.
10. LLOYD BROWN RESIDENCE, 109 Gore Street, formerly the Dr. Joseph Hackett Residence, another son of the Bois Blanc Lighthouse Keeper, James Hackett. This large two storey frame house was probably built about 1865. It has a gable roof without dormers and has an overall Georgian appearance. One of the best kept homes in Amherstburg, it is at present covered with aluminum siding.
