34-36 Hess Street South
City of Hamilton

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Architectural Value

The architectural value of 34-36 Hess Street South is attributed to its Classical Revival architecture, pre-Confederation brick and stone construction and its contribution to the streetscape of Hess Street South.

The subject building, constructed as two semi-detached residential units circa 1853, comprises a brick structure with tooled limestone ashlar applied to the east façade. The building comprises six bays, both units having three bays each. The front façade and foundation are stone with a watertable above the foundation. The main floor windows and entrance doors are capped with triangular stone pediments with brackets. Classical hood moulds with brackets are situated atop the second floor windows. All of the windows have stone sills. The original entrances contain double leaf wood doors and transoms.

The side gable roof has chimneys at each end and side brick parapet walls extending slightly above the gable and roofline. The building has a box cornice with simple moulded wood fascia.

The Reasons for Designation apply to the front (east) elevation, the roof and forecourt including all entranceways, window openings, stairs and retaining walls together with construction materials of wood, tooled ashlar, brick and stone, and all associated building techniques.
