NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Newmarket intends to designate 17030 Yonge Street under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. O.18, as amended.

The subject property is located at 17030 Yonge Street consisting of the Orthodox Friends Meeting House and Cemetery.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

Physical/Design Value - It is one of the oldest surviving Meeting Houses in Canada and an important example of Quaker architecture. The Orthodox Friends Cemetery is located to the south of the meeting house. The cemetery features gravestones and monuments that range in size and material, including: wood (no examples of which remain visible), stone, and cast iron. The grave markers also exhibit a range of engraving techniques, writing (font) styles and decoration/iconography.

Historical/Associative Value - The Meeting House and Cemetery is associated with the Quaker Religion and has been in continuous use for almost 200 years. The Orthodox Friends Cemetery was established first in 1807 after Asa Rogers deeded two acres of land for a burial ground for the Yonge Street Monthly Meeting of Friends.

Contextual Value - The Meeting House and Cemetery is situated along Yonge Street, a historic thoroughfare. The Cemetery and Meeting House are historically and functionally linked. Mature trees remain on the cemetery site, two at each gated entryway and one in the west quarter near the centre. The Meeting House overlooks the cemetery on a slight rise and is surrounded by lawns giving it a park-like atmosphere.

For more information or to receive a copy of the Designation Statement, please contact Dave Ruggie at 905-953-5321 ext. 2454 (druggie@newmarket.ca). Notice of objection to the designation may be sent to Esther Armchuk, Acting Clerk, no later than 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 21 at 395 Mulock Drive P.O. NEWS

Good hygiene, shot key to preventing flu

Health, urges patients to head straight to an urgent care facility if they suspect they have the flu.

She has seen Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital swamped to the gills lately. Part of the issue is the hospital's emergency room was built to handle 80,000 yearly visits and sees 100,000 annually, so it already faces overcrowding. A flu epidemic just intensifies an already difficult situation, Kwolek said.

On Boxing Day the ER saw nearly 400 patients, about 70 more than usual and nearly a 25 per cent increase. And the flu epidemic currently sweeping the GTA didn't spare Mackenzie Health's urgent care clinic either. On New Year's Day it saw 90 patients, when 60 to 70 is par for the course.

Dr. David Rauchwerger, chief and medical director, emergency medicine program at Mackenzie Health said, "We've seen an even greater stress on the system than in even previous years."

Southlake Regional Health Centre's emergency department also saw 25 per cent more patients per day in December compared to the average for the rest of the year.

And at Markham-Stouffville Hospital, the emergency department also saw an increased number of patients.

There was a 30 per cent increase in the Markham-Stouffville ER, or 100 more patients than normal on the busiest days.

Kwolek said the spike in holiday-period visits to the ER isn't related to the flu. Part of it is because primary care physicians and other health-care providers either close their offices or go on reduced hours for the holidays leaving the ER an option for patients.

The concern now that the holidays are over is the associate medical officer of health's prediction we're just at the beginning of a six-week surge of flu activity in the GTA.

With that in mind, Kwolek is urging anyone who hasn't yet received a flu shot to get one as soon as possible.

"It's not too late to get vaccinated. It takes two weeks to work."

She also encourages people to remember to wash their hands, cover their mouths when coughing to prevent the spread of infection, keep surfaces clean and avoid sharing towels, glasses and plates.

"Be scrupulous about cold hygiene," Kwolek said.

And if you are ill and come to hospital, Kwolek said you should put a mask on to hopefully prevent the spread of flu to others.

In the end, if you can't arrange an appointment with your family doctor or get to an urgent care clinic, you're of course welcome to come to the emergency department where you will be treated.

"Anybody who is really ill, come here," Kwolek said.

Nothing to suggest incidents linked, police say

The good news is that in this latest case there appears to be surveillance; the bad news is that none of the suspects in any of the reported shootings have been arrested.

Pattenden said there is nothing to suggest to police the violence is linked.

"There's nothing to connect them all according to investigators," he added.

Despite the assurances by police, a Richmond Hill family, with two children, aged 17 and six, who had their home fired at on May 6, 2016 at around 2 a.m. had no idea why they might have been targeted.

"We found two bullets in our home," said the family's father and owner of the home, who declined to give his name.

"We had in-laws over at the time. I thought a picture fell and smashed, but the sound of the shots woke up my wife. My wife is very shaken up. I'm not going to tell you that I'm not, but she has been left very frightened by this."

He vowed to install home surveillance on his property in the wake of the incident.

Anyone with information on the Markham shooting is asked to contact the No. 5 District Criminal Investigations Bureau at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7541. Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.
