LONDON TOWNSHIP SCHOOL SECTION #8 (BUILT 1867)"REASONS FOR DESIGNATION"

Section I:

South part of Lot 21, Concession 11, SE corner

Section II: Historical

In 1819 a 100 acre farm was settled by Joseph Hughes of which one an one quarter of an acre was set aside for a school house. The original school was built on the corner of the Cameron Side Road and County Road 16. The present school was built during confederation year (1867) on 1/2 an acre just west of the school to accomodate 60-70 students. It closed in 1958.

Architectural

The school building is symmetrically balanced and well proportioned. Originally it was one large room surrounded by walls with tin panels over tongue and grove pine. A cast iron box stove eight feet by three feet by two feet wide once sat in the middle of the room. This was replaced in 1950 with oil burners. An original plaster blackboard is mounted on the north wall. The front facing gable roof was once covered with cedar shingles and held a bell tower. The stone foundation is topped with marlbrick of an English Bond assembly. A brick plinth exists around the base of the building which also shows brick relief work. The double hung six pane over six pane wood framed windows were adorned with segmental arches of brick.
