REASONS FOR THE PROPOSED DESIGNATION

143-145 PINNACLE STREET

HISTORY

In February 1819 Joseph Dennis (Mariner) was granted Lot 16 on the east side of Pinnacle Street in a patent from the Crown. Joseph Dennis owned a vessel on Lake Ontario at the outbreak of the War of 1812 which was lost in action and he was a prisoner of War for 18 months. This may have precipitated the granting of the land from the Crown following the War. He is believed to have owned and commanded the first steamer on the Lake. In October 1819, 1/2 acre of Lot 16 on the east side of Pinnacle Street was sold for 10 pounds to Hugh Christopher Thomson of Kingston. In January 1822, Mr. Thomson sold the 1/2 acre of Lot 16 to John S. Baldwin for 1000 pounds. Mr. John Baldwin sold it for the same price to his brother W. W. Baldwin, noted doctor, lawyer, architect and politician. Mr. Baldwin in 1833 sold 2 roods of Lot 16, east of Pinnacle Street, to his brother Henry Baldwin for 75 pounds. Mr. Baldwin was the Collector of Customs for Belleville in 1833 and was still recorded as the Collector of Customs in 1836. This may account for the rooster(s) carved into the lintels over the Pinnacle Street doors on the existing house, a sign identifying a Customs house at one time. Although the house was built later, it may have been intended for Customs.

Mr. Henry Baldwin sold these 2 roods on Lot 16, east of Pinnacle Street, to his daughter Anne Marie McAnnany and his son-in-law Francis McAnnany. Mr. McAnnany probably built the existing house in the 1850's. There is nothing marked on the 1845 map but does appear on all subsequent maps. Mr. Francis McAnnany - for whom McAnnany Street was named, was a merchant in Belleville and active in the life of the City. He was a member of the Belleville Council from 1837 to 1861. Mr. McAnnany served as President (Mayor) from 1842 to 1847 and from 1857 to 1859 and again in 1861. He died in 1877.

ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION

This two storey double town house is of rubble stone with a brick facade facing Pinnacle Street. The stone is reputed to be 2 feet thick on the end walls and the brick 3 bricks thick on the front wall. It has a parapet gabled roof with centered chimneys on north and south end walls. The roof was wooden probably hand-made pine on cedar shingles.

Two rooster carvings, not identical, are found in the lintels over both doors facing Pinnacle Street, perhaps indicating an early Customs house. The regency style doors facing Pinnacle Street are flush with the street and both have side and transom lights which offset the narrow styling of the main doors. Although the doors divide the house in two, there is no fire wall between north and south halves of the house.

There are 6 windows facing Pinnacle Street on the second storey with 6 over 6 framing. There were 4 identical windows on the first floor facing Pinnacle Street. Hand cut stone flat arch style lintels and sashes are found above and below each window in both storeys.
