IN THE MATTER OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT

The Corporation of the City of Ottawa on the 2nd day of February, 1994, established its intention to designate the following heritage property for its architectural and historical value.

46 Cartier Street

STATEMENT OF REASON FOR DESIGNATION

The property at 46 Cartier Street is recommended for designation as being of architectural and historical interest. This Queen Anne Revival Style house was built in 1901 as the retirement residence of prominent Centretown businessman, Newell Bate. It was later the Ottawa residence of New Brunswick Senator George W. Fowler and, from 1924-1942, it was the home of Supreme Court Justice Thibodeau Rinfret. From 1942-1965, the house at 46 Cartier Street was occupied by the D'Youville Convent, and was later a nursing home.

This grandly-scaled house reflects the early character of its neighbourhood. It was the first construction at the site, and was built at the latter half of the neighbourhood's first development phase. It is an excellent example of local Queen Anne Revival Style, distinguished by its prominent and elaborate chimney stacks, irregular plan, shingled porches and gables and the decorative use of both brick and stone exterior finishes.

OBJECTIONS

Any person wishing to object to this designation may do so by letter, outlining reasons for the objections and other relevant information. These must be received by the Clerk of the City of Ottawa either by registered mail or personally delivered by the 21st day of March, 1994.

DATED at Ottawa this 19th day of February 1994.

P.G. Pagé
City Clerk
