Enc. 2

IN THE MATTER OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT.

The Corporation of the City of Ottawa on the 19th day of June, 1996, established its intention to designate the following heritage property for its architectural value.

339 Pleasant Park Road

STATEMENT OF REASON FOR DESIGNATION

The building at 339 Pleasant Park Road is recommended for designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act for architectural reasons.

This house was constructed in 1965 to a design by the Ottawa architect James Strutt. Strutt, both in partnership with James Gilleland and on his own, was responsible for a number of innovative buildings including the Ottawa Airport, the Halifax Airport, the Canadian Nurses' Association Headquarters, the Kitchissippi Pavilions, Bell's Corners United Church and numerous private residences.

In its design and execution, 339 Pleasant Park Road represents a marked departure from the conventional suburban house designs of the 1950s and 1960s. It is a low, concrete block structure with a carport facing the street. Its plan is interesting as the kitchen, dining room and living room are arranged in a "U" with windows opening onto an interior flagstone courtyard. The building's windows sit directly beneath a modified cornice, executed in cedar, which gives it a strong horizontal emphasis. A large chimney distinguishes the rear facade.

This designation includes the interior and specifically the entrance hall, dining room and living room of the building because of certain design elements found there, including the wooden screens separating the rooms, the fireplace and the built-in furniture.

OBJECTIONS

Any person wishing to object to this designation may do so by letter, outlining reasons for the objections and other relevant information. These must be received by the Clerk of the City of Ottawa either by registered mail or personally delivered by the 12th day of August, 1996.

DATED at Ottawa this 10th day of July, 1996.

P.G. Pagé
City Clerk
