NOTICE

IN THE MATTER OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT, R.S.O. 1990, CHAPTER 0.18, AND
IN THE MATTER OF THE LANDS AND PREMISES LOCATED AT "1775 BRISTOL ROAD", IN THE CITY OF MISSISSAUGA, IN THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE

TAKE NOTICE that The Council of the Corporation of the City of Mississauga intends to designate the lands and buildings located at 1775 Bristol Road in the City of Mississauga, in the Province of Ontario, as a property of architectural and historical significance under Part IV of The Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. 0.18, as amended.

REASONS FOR THE PROPOSED DESIGNATION:

The property at 1775 Bristol Road, formerly the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, is recommended for heritage designation for reasons of its architectural and historical significance. The church structure when first built, was a vernacular interpretation of the Gothic Revival style, typical of the first half of the nineteenth century. The one-storey, red brick church has a recent flat-roofed chancel extension at the south and a gable-roofed, one-bay porch extension at the north. The body of the original church is three bays long, on stone foundations, with a full basement. The gable roof is medium-pitched, with boxed eaves, a narrow frieze, and cornice return blocks on both north gables.

The nave body has four pilaster-like strip wall buttresses. The north extension has an external chimney. Windows have tall pointed heads, double-hung sashes, wooden lugsills, radiating brick voussiors, and delicate switch line tracery over sixteen-above-twelve panes.

Historically, the Church was the first Roman Catholic church built in Streetsville. St. Joseph's Church was consecrated on July 18, 1858 by Bishop de Charbonnel. A fire in the chancel in 1985 caused the church to no longer be used for services. A new church was built in another location and the old church converted to private ownership and retrofitted as an art gallery. The building has now been converted back to ownership by a church.

For further information and a complete description of the reasons for designation, please contact the Heritage Manager, Community Services, at 896-5070.

Notice of objection to the designation may be served on the Commissioner of Corporate Services and Clerk/Treasurer no later than 4:30 pm on September 20, 1997.
