IN THE MATTER OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT, 1974
S.O. CHAPTER 122

AND IN THE MATTER OF THE LANDS AND PREMISES KNOWN MUNICIPALLY AS 141 MAIN STREET, UNIONVILLE, IN THE TOWN OF MARKHAM, IN THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE

TO: [REDACTED]
141 Main Street
Unionville, Ontario

Ontario Heritage Foundation

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Markham on the 14TH day of JUNE, 1977, decided to designate the lands and buildings, known municipally as 141 Main Street, Unionville, Ontario, as a property of architectural and historical value or interest under The Ontario Heritage Act, 1974, S.O. Chapter 122.

Short Statement of the Reasons for the Proposed Designation:

The lands and buildings comprising 141 Main Street, Unionville, Ontario are recommended for designation for architectural, historical and environmental reasons. The house was built in 1873 in the Italianate style and it projects the picturesque irregularity popular at the time with contrasting surface textures and two verandahs of varying decoration. The roof line supports a trim most associated with the Italianate style: the bracket organized in widely spaced pairs. In addition, the north-west corner of the house assumes the appearance of a short, square watch tower of medieval inspiration, heralding the High Victorian principles of mixing styles to obtain a picturesque effect.

The house was built for Robert Harrington who owned and operated the Unionville Planning Mill from 1881 to 1896. The mill was a major employer of the village's residents and it continued to be operated by the Harrington family until the 1960's.

Located on a small rise at the jog in Main Street at the corner of Victoria Street, the house is highly visible as one travels north into the village and it is a important element of the streetscape.

Notice of objection to the designation may be served on the Clerk within thirty days of the 10TH day of AUGUST, 1977.

DATED at MARKHAM this 10TH day of AUGUST, 1977.

Diane Smith
Clerk
