SCHEDULE “B”STATEMENT OF REASON FOR DESIGNATION

Former St. Augustine's Church, 100 Huxley Street

The former St. Augustine's Anglican Church is recommended for designation under the Ontario Heritage Act for architectural, historical and contextual reasons. The church served the Anglicans of the community of Galetta for 92 years and is an important component in the Huxley Street streetscape.

St. Augustine's was designed by John W.H. Watts, A.R.C.A. (1850-1917). Watts studied in England before immigrating to Canada in 1874. He worked for the Chief Dominion Architect for 23 years and was also the first curator for the National Gallery of Canada and a founding member of the Royal Canadian Academy. Watts set up a private practice in Ottawa in 1897. He was responsible for a number of prominent buildings in the Ottawa area, including the Fleck/Paterson House, 500 Wilbrod, the Laurentian Club, 252 Metcalfe, and Glebe St. James Church.

St. Augustine's was constructed between 1901 and 1902. It is a plain one storey, red brick structure with two projecting bays on the southwest façade. It is an example of the Gothic Revival style, which was popular for ecclesiastical architecture in Canada in the 19th and early 20th centuries. Its steeply pitched roof, bell-cote over the southerly southwest bay, and pointed arch windows are typical of the small Gothic Revival churches built throughout Canada.

The simple Gothic Revival details of St. Augustine's Church, and its informal setting (native trees and meadow) are character defining elements in the Huxley Street streetscape.
