The residence presently has a cedar shingle roof that needs replacing. I have discussed getting a replacement with several roofers. I have been told that a new ^{cedar} shingle roof might get 15 years of life because it doesn't stand up like the shingles from old growth trees. →

The rosters have suggested that there are metal roof products available that give a similar appearance to cedar shingles, but would last much longer.

I am hoping that your committee is willing to direct me and have a discussion about my concerns and to work to decision that best protects the Williamson House.

Thank you for your consideration
