SCHEDULE "A"REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

The property at 16 Kimberley Avenue is recommended for designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural resource value or interest. Located on the west side of Kimberley Avenue between Lyall and Swanwick Avenues in the East Toronto neighbourhood, the house was built in 1889. The property was acquired in 1896 by William Brown, a Grand Trunk Railway employee, whose family retained it for over a century.

The William Brown House is architecturally significant as a good example of late 19th century residential design that contributes to the character of the area.

The heritage attributes of the property are found on the exterior walls and roof. Rising 2½ stories, the William Brown House features an ell-shaped plan beneath a cross-gable roof with end chimneys. The red brick clad walls are trimmed with brick, stone and wood. On the principal (east) façade, an open verandah with a shed roof, brick piers and Classical half-columns protects the main entrance, which is placed near the intersection of the ell. The elevations combine large segmental-arched and narrow round-arched window openings with brick and stone detailing.
