In 1789, New Jersey became the first state to ratify the U.S. Bill of Rights.

In 1840, Wilfrid Laurier, Canada's seventh prime minister, was born. He was Canada's first prime minister of French ancestry serving from 1896-1911.

In 1871, John and David McDougall arrived in Alberta to become the province's first farmers.

Also in 1871, telegraph lines linked Winnipeg and Eastern Canada via the United States.

In 1871, Edmonton started its first telegraph service.

In 1888, the U.S. Supreme Court held that the Great Lakes and their connecting waters constituted the "high seas."

In 1891, the U.S. and Canada signed a treaty in 1908 which granted the lakes to be shared and open to both countries on equal terms.

In 1903, the Saskatchewan city of Moose Jaw was incorporated.

In 1900, revolution broke out in Mexico, led by Francisco I. Madero.

In 1925, future U.S. attorney general and senator Robert F. Kennedy was born in Brookline, Mass. He was assassinated in 1968.

In 1945, the Nuremberg war crimes trials of 22 major Nazi figures opened in Germany. Judges from Great Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States presided over the hearings, which lasted for 218 days.

When verdicts were pronounced on Oct. 1, 11 prominent Nazis were sentenced to death; seven others received prison sentences and three were acquitted.

Martin Bormann was tried in absentia and also sentenced to death. It was not confirmed until 1972 that he had died before the trial began.

In 1946, Albertas oil boom began when the first oil drilling was done at the famous Leduc well south of Edmonton. Leduc began producing Feb. 13, 1947. Four-fifths of Canada's oil reserves are located in the Prairie, especially Alberta.

In 1957, he received the Nobel Peace Prize for his proposal of a UN peacekeeping force to end the British and French conflict in Egypt.

In 1962, the United Nations adopted a Canadian plan to measure worldwide economic activity.

In 1968, the Supreme Court of Canada struck down a portion of the "Indian Act" which said it was illegal for aboriginals to be drunk off their reserve.

The ruling on the case of Joseph Dryden was a victory for the 1960 Bill of Rights, which said Canadian law should not violate the rights of the individual.

In this case, the rule on drunkenness only applied to aboriginals.

Clinton Radars get back on winning track

JOE LIVERMORE

In Clinton on Friday, Nov. 15 the Clinton Radars ended their three-game losing streak by drubbing the Shallow Lake Crushers 8-2.

Putting the Radars with two goals each were Kurtis Bartliff, Max Campbell and Cullen Mercer.

Picking up the single tallies were Steven Shipley and Ray Huether.

Greg Dadds netched the victory as he backstopped the Radars with 21 saves. Dadds also chipped in with an assist, giving him three for the season.

Bartliff led the point-getters in this game as he added two assists for a total of four points. Huether, who has been finding his groove in the Senior "AAA" league, also garnered two assists for a total of three points.

The Radars led 3-0 after one period. Shipley opened up the scoring at 2:09 on a beautiful backhand shot from just outside the crease. Bartliff made it 3-0 at 11:52 as he banged home a rebound shot by Huether. Huether scored a powerplay goal at 18:03 to close out the first period scoring.

In the middle frame a short-handed goal by Bartliff at the seven-minute mark and a powerplay goal at 11:29 by Max Campbell gave the Dars a 5-0 cushion.

The Crushers' Dan Zwiss spoiled Dadds' shutout at 18:57 on a powerplay goal.

In the final period, the Radars outscored the Crushers three goals to one to make the final score of the game 8-2. First, it was Mercer at 4:59 scoring on a beautiful set up from Derek Ellett before the Crushers' second goal at 4:15. The last two goals were scored by Mercer at 17:39 while on a powerplay, and Campbell rounded out the scoring at 18:39.

The Radars completely dominated the Crushers as they outshot their northern opponent 58-21.

The Radars take to the road the next two weekends and don't have another home game until Friday, Dec. 6 when they will play host to the Ripley Wolves at 8:30 p.m. Mark your calendars for this date as this is an annual PJ loss to support the Huron County Christmas Bureau.

This will be the first meeting of the season for these two teams after the Radars put the Wolves out in four straight to capture the Senior "AA" championship.

Then on Saturday, Dec. 14 the Radars will host the Durham Thundercats on Minor Hockey Day in Clinton. Game time is 7:30 p.m. All minor hockey players sporting their local jersey will receive an entry ballot to be eligible for the many prizes up for grabs.

The Radars' hockey team will also be giving away the grand prize of $500 towards the lucky recipient's next year's hockey season.

Come out and show your support for our local minor hockey system and a chance to win some awesome prizes.
