SCHEDULE "B" TO BY-LAW NO. 2024-0031

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description of Property

The property at 87 Main Street South is located along the east side of Main Street South within a commercial row. The existing two-storey building with rear additions has been modified at grade, as with many of the nineteenth-century commercial properties extant within Georgetown's commercial core.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The property at 87 Main Street South has physical and design value as the last remaining portion of the mid-nineteenth century commercial building known as Barclay's Block within the community of Georgetown. Built for prominent entrepreneur Francis Barclay, the building featured architectural details and a form typical of nineteenth-century downtown commercial buildings in Ontario at the time. While the remaining section of Barclay's Block has been altered from the fine commercial building identified in the 1877 Illustrated Historical Atlas of the County of Halton, the scale, form and massing, the traditional storefront, and symmetrically placed upper storey windows reflect some of its original form. Restoring the original, Flemish-bond brick beneath the existing stucco on the front elevation would further contribute to its physical value within the community of Georgetown.

The property at 87 Main Street South has historical and associative value due to its associations with prominent entrepreneur, Francis Barclay. Barclay's Block has been the site of several department and clothing stores since its construction, with connections to Brill & Co., the Cotton Brothers, and several smaller business and services including a pool and billiards hall, barber shop, smoke and tobacco shop, and restaurant. Serving as a health food store since the 1990s, the subject property continues to serve as an important part of historic Georgetown's commercial core.

The property at 87 Main Street South has contextual value as it is important in defining the built heritage character of the downtown. The existing remaining portion of the two-storey building known as Barclay's Block remains in its original location, physically and functionally linked to its surroundings as a commercial property on the Georgetown main street. The scale, form and massing of the building helps to define the historic streetwall along Main Street South in the downtown.

Heritage Attributes

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 87 Main Street South that contribute to its physical and design value include:

- The scale, form, and massing of the remaining portion of the mid-19th century building with modified hipped roof;
- The traditional storefront layout at the first storey, including the solid base panels at grade beneath large display window openings, recessed entry, and sign band below the second storey;
- Window openings at the second storey; and,
