Reasons for Designation

The property at 80 Mimico Avenue is worthy of designation under Part IV, Section 29 of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural heritage value, and meets Ontario Regulation 9/06, the provincial criteria prescribed for municipal designation, under the categories of design/physical and contextual value.

Description

Located on the north side of Mimico Avenue between Queens Avenue and Station Road, the property at 80 Mimico Avenue was constructed in 1920 for John and Percy MacKenzie as the John MacKenzie and Son Dairy. Following its sale in 1928 to Anthony Joseph, it would remain in the ownership of the Joseph family until 1980.

The two-storey, flat-roofed, rectangular, brick clad structure features a principal (south) elevation facing Mimico Avenue with brick parapet above a band of decorative brickwork laid in a basketweave pattern. The first storey features a full width storefront with central recessed entrance flanked by large display windows featuring transoms and low bulkheads. The second storey features two symmetrically placed windows with paired double sash windows, stone sills, and brick voussoirs.

The property was identified as a potential heritage resource in the Mimico 20/20 Revitalization Cultural Heritage Resource Assessment prepared in 2012 by URS Canada for the City of Toronto.
