STATEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE VALUE OR INTEREST

Description of Property

The property at 2038 Lakeshore Road East is located on the south side of Lakeshore Road East, between Maple Grove Drive and Charnwood Drive. The property contains a two-storey frame house known as the MacKendrick House.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

Design and Physical Value

The MacKendrick House has design value as a representative example of a c.1936 Colonial Revival style home with Arts and Crafts influences. While the building has evolved over time and has had numerous additions constructed onto the main house, it still retains the main Colonial Revival structure and many of its original features. Heritage attributes that define the Colonial Revival style include: the massing of the historic two-storey portion of the house; the gable roof with minimal roof overhang; the use of 6/6 and 8/8 sash windows; and the refined front entrance with detailed roof overhang and decorative door surround with Colonial style pilasters. Heritage attributes that define the Arts and Crafts era include: the mix of stone veneer and wood cladding; the original stone chimneys; and the mix of windows including bay windows, sash windows and stained-glass windows. Together these architectural elements contribute to a charming example of a 1930s estate house with an elegant but modest aesthetic.

Historical and Associative Value

The MacKendrick House has cultural heritage value for its associations with some of the early wealthy families of the Oakville and Trafalgar Township area. The original estate started out as farmland, and the later subject house is important in Oakville's history as the property transitioned from a larger farm into a lakeshore estate, a significant theme of development in Oakville in the late 1800s into the mid-1900s. Estates along the lakeshore, including the MacKendrick House, shaped many physical aspects of Oakville today. The town's unindustrialized lakeshore can be linked to the existence of these significant and wealthy estates extending to the waterfront. The property also has cultural heritage value for its direct associations with its notable Oakville residents, such as Harry and VeNorma MacKendrick, who not only contributed to the property and surrounding area, but to the development of the town as well. The house is also associated with well-respected and successful architect Robert Ian Macbeth who designed the house. Macbeth lived in St.

Catharines and built many private and public buildings in the Niagara region, including St. Catharines City Hall.

Contextual Value

The MacKendrick House is important in defining, maintaining and supporting the character of the local area. The property is one of the few remaining historic estates located on Lakeshore Road along the waterfront and contributes to the streetscape along this part of Lakeshore Road, which is characterized by large lots and homes and significant vegetation. The property is physically, functionally, visually, and historically linked to its surroundings. This house was built in the early 1900s as the area was transitioning from a farming region to more of a wealthy lakeside estate component of Trafalgar Township. Well to-do businesspeople from Toronto and abroad were purchasing pieces of land on Oakville's lakeshore and transitioning them from farmland to estates. This subject property is an example of this important shift; these families and the related tourism became economic drivers in Oakville. While the other older estate houses on the larger historic lot have been demolished, this house is the last remaining one on the site and is an important anchor point to the history of the area.

Description of Heritage Attributes

Key heritage attributes of the property at 2038 Lakeshore Road East that exemplify its cultural heritage value as a representative example of an early 1900s Colonial Revival home with Arts and Crafts influences, as they relate to the historic two-storey portions of the house, include:

- The massing and form of the gable-roofed house, including the bay window bumpout and one-storey bumpout on the north elevation;
- Historic stone cladding and chimneys;
- The presence of horizontal wood siding;
- The fenestration of windows and doors on the north and west elevations;
- The presence of multipaned sash windows in the Arts and Crafts era style; and
- Front entrance, including its wooden panelled Dutch door with leaded-glass windows, porch roof with decorative brackets, and door surround with wooden panelling and pilasters.
