STATEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE VALUE OR INTEREST AND DESCRIPTION OF HERITAGE ATTRIBUTES

The property located at 4677 Watson Road South, Puslinch, meets the requirements for designation prescribed by the Province of Ontario under the three categories of design/physical value, historical/associative value, and contextual value.

The property retains significant cultural heritage value in its rare fieldstone Queen Anne architecture. The property is historically associated with the Crastor Johnston family, the John Murray family, and the Village of Arkell. It is contextually significant to other stone buildings in Arkell built by stonemason, Robert Lamb.

Design Value:

The property was built for John Murray in 1896. It is a rare, and the only example in Puslinch Township, of a two-and-a-half-storey Queen Anne Revival/Italianate-style house built of large cut field granite, fieldstone and limestone. Queen Anne architecture is usually rendered in brick or wood to accommodate the asymmetrical form, multiple planes, and decorative treatments of this style. In this case the builders applied Italianate detailing to the Queen Anne form and mass to achieve this effect. Features characteristic of the Queen Anne style on this residence include the two-and-a-half-storey height with a steeply pitched cross-gabled roof. The front Gothic gable is to one side of the front facade. A projecting two-storey bay under the Gothic gable, is typical Queen Anne design. In contrast to the heavy granite and fieldstone of the main facade, the bay is constructed of finely cut limestone with a separate parapeted roof with cornice and brackets. It is windowed on both storeys, with windows canted to fit the bay. The original double-hung entry porch with a second story exit door tucked beside the projecting bay is also Queen Anne design (porch has deteriorated). The residence has a two-storey fieldstone and granite rear extension, perpendicular to the main structure, that accommodates a long veranda with posts and fan brackets; the latter also characteristic of the Queen Anne style. Wide eaves with paired decorative scroll brackets, and arched windows in the upper storeys illustrate the Italianate influences. All lintels and sills are cut stone. The construction of the residence was overseen by local stonemason Robert Lamb, who completed the project in 1896. The grandeur of the endeavor was highlighted in the Arkell newspaper, which showcased the advanced skills of Scottish stonemasons in the area during that era.

Historical/Associative Value:

The property, originally settled by the Crastor Johnston family in 1839, was sold to John Murray in 1871, following his marriage to Catherine Johnston in 1866 and the death of Crastor Johnston in 1867. Crastor had no sons to inherit or work the property. The pre-1851 two-storey stone house that the Johnston family had built on the property was replaced by Murray in 1896. Murray was a farmer and livestock breeder and a prominent figure in Arkell, playing a vital role in various aspects of community building. He served as Secretary of the School Board for School Section #1, facilitated the purchase of the school bell for the Arkell Schoolhouse, and was involved in hiring teachers. He was a director of the Puslinch Agricultural Society. He also organized church gatherings for his Presbyterian peers and was regarded in the Township as a man of integrity and generosity. John Murray and his wife Catherine raised a large family, many of whom became active community contributors. This property reflects the economic status of the Murray family at the time they had the residence built.

Contextual Value:

The property is physically connected to its surroundings through the use of local stone for the house construction and the stonemason Robert Lamb, who also built the 1875 Arkell teacherage. The property is situated in proximity to other mid to late 19th century properties with heritage significance including the Thomas Arkell Georgian manor farmhouse, and the William Hume and James Orme Neoclassic residences, that collectively exemplify the history and agricultural prosperity of the Arkell area.
