Schedule "A" to By-law 25-37

Description

The property consists of a two-storey, limestone Gothic Revival building constructed between 1902 and 1907.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

192 Main Street is a representative example of the Gothic Revival architectural style and a rare example in the historic Village of Erin of a residential building constructed with limestone. The two-storey building follows a L-shaped plan with cross gable roof line that has a large front gable and steep central gable peak adorned with overhanging eaves and ornamental bargeboard which is typical of Gothic Revival buildings.

The limestone exterior is heavily mortared with raised tuckpointing to create a random ashlar appearance and showcases raised quoins. The use of limestone material is rare in the historic village as most buildings are constructed with brick. The building includes segmentally arched and rectangular window openings which are all framed by limestone reveal quoining and adorned with a single, rusticated, carved stone detail or by a raised keystone with stringers, both of which create a hood mould effect. A pair of narrow windows with segmentally arched openings with rusticated raised keystone with stringers that create a hood mould are also present on the façade and reflect the Italianate architectural influence. The asymmetrical but balanced façade includes a centered entryway opening topped by a rectangular transom and one-storey porch consists of an architrave supported by square wood columns which sit on masonry piers which are all representative of the Gothic Revival style.

192 Main Street is directly associated with the historic core in the Village of Erin. The development of the historic core in the 19th and early 20th century played a significant role in the social and economic development of the Village of Erin. The lot lines, layout, and built form of the historic core is consistent with typical 19th century rural communities found throughout Ontario.

192 Main Street is important in supporting and maintaining the late 19th and early 20th century character of the historic Village of Erin. The residential portions, extending from the commercial core and into several side streets, were developed at the same time as the commercial core and supports the legibility and character of the historic village core. Located on or just off Main Street, the residential buildings are comprised of predominantly one to two-and-a-half storey residences, primarily brick construction, with modest setbacks. 192 Main Street exhibits setback, massing, style, decorative details consistent with the character of the historic Village of Erin.
