REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description of Property

The property at 2 King Street is located along the southeast side of King Street (formerly Emery Street) in the community of Georgetown within the Town of Halton Hills. The property is a rectangular-shaped lot and features a two-storey red brick dwelling with a stone foundation, hipped roof, dormer, wooden covered porch, and an addition along the rear (northwest) elevation.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest

The McCuaig-Feller House at 2 King Street has physical and design value as it is a representative example of an early twentieth-century residential building in the Edwardian architectural style. Built by Robert Waldie in 1912, the two-storey residential building exhibits features typical of the style including a hipped roof, central dormer along the front (northwest) and side (northeast) elevation, smooth red brick façade and tall brick chimney, an American Four-Square layout, as well as one-storey covered wooden porch with white painted square wooden columns, plain eaves, and a wooden knee-wall.

The property at 2 King Street is directly associated with Robert John Waldie (1876-1938), one of Georgetown’s most prolific builders of Edwardian residences in the early twentieth century, as well as the prominent Feller family. Waldie constructed the residence in 1912, along with three other Edwardian homes at 12, 17, and 19 McNabb Street between 1909 and 1912. The first family to own the subject property, the McCuaig family, lived in the residence for a decade while Robert Roderick McCuaig (1875-1957) worked as a farm manager in Georgetown before selling the property to Arnim and Lucy Feller in 1922.

Arnim “Ernie” Hulbert Feller (1882-1972), who managed the Harley-Kay knitting machinery firm before becoming Master Mechanic at Provincial Paper Ltd., also served as Ward 2 Councillor and chaired Georgetown’s Water and Fire Committee. He co-founded the Georgetown Lions Club and held leadership roles within the local Masonic community. His wife, Lucy Ellen Feller (née Lake) (1892-1996) was an active member of the Georgetown Women’s Institute (GWI), hosting weekly meetings from the 1930s through the 1970s and serving as GWI president in 1934. Both Lucy and her daughter Floria Elizabeth (1921-2024) both became Georgetown’s oldest residents, each living to the age of 104, with Lucy passing in 1996 and Floria in 2024.

The McCuaig-Feller House at 2 King Street has contextual value as it is important in defining and maintaining the late-nineteenth and early twentieth-century character of King Street, surrounding the former Grand Trunk Railway Station in Georgetown. The property remains physically, visually, and historically linked to its surroundings as a residential building along King Street. The property is relative in scale and design to neighbouring properties and has not been identified as a landmark in the community.

Heritage Attributes

The identified heritage attributes of the property at 2 King Street that contribute to its physical and design value include:
