Statements of Reasons for Designations

32 Gordon Street

Built in 1845, this three-storey structure was the first major stone building constructed in Guelph. The carefully-dressed ashlar limestone of the facade, with a crowning cornice of carved stone, is a notable example of the craftsmanship of our early stone carvers and masons. Four large pillars framing the former main floor shop-front are each single blocks of stone. The side and rear walls, of random-coursed rubble stone, have had limited alteration. The interior has been extensively remodelled.

This was the site of Guelph's second log house, built by John Lynch, in August 1827. The first Catholic mass and the first marriage took place in that dwelling. F. W. Stone, pioneer businessman and noted cattle breeder, erected this building as a general store in what was the town's business centre. The store was closed early in the 20th Century but remained with the Stone family's heirs for another fifty years. It was occupied by the Pentecostal Church for about 10 years before it was purchased in 1960 by the Guelph Imperials and Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, Unit 344, who now plan to preserve the structure and restore its facade.

25-27 Douglas Street

25-27 Douglas Street was constructed by the County of Wellington in 1885 to house the office of the Crown Attorney, which remained there until 1967. The offices of Guelph Township Council were located on the second floor from 1886 until 1943. More recently it has accommodated the Legal Aid Office and the Small Claims Court.

The decorative gables, the west corner doorway, and the original patterned slate-tiled roof, distinguish this two-and-a-half storey structure of yellow brick trimmed with local limestone. The original architect was John Hall of Guelph. Restored in 1980, this building remains as one of the essential features of the unique Douglas Street vista.

Elements of Properties and Buildings Being Designated

32 Gordon Street

25-27 Douglas Street

All the exterior of the building at 25-27 Douglas Street is designated by this by-law. This would include:

- (a) The brick walls and stone trim.
- (b) Location and type of doors and windows.
- (c) The decorative gables and chimneys.
- (d) The indented corner doorway.
- (e) The shape and pattern of the slate roof.

Interior details have not been included in this designation.
