Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed details concerning the designation of certain properties within the Corporation of the Town of Goderich. As we understand it, this information is to be forwarded to your office for each property being designated as a Heritage Building. We are currently designating these properties according to the Ontario Heritage Act 1974, S.O. Chapter 122.

We cordially submit this information for your records.

Yours truly,

Larry J. McCabe

In the matter of The Ontario Heritage Act, 1974, S.O. Chapter 122.

And in the matter of the lands and premises known municipally as Seegmiller House in the Town of Goderich in the Province of Ontario.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE

TO:

87 St. Patrick Street,
GODERICH, Ontario.
N7A 2W1

Ontario Heritage Foundation

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Goderich, on the 3rd day of October 1977, decided to designate the lands and buildings, known municipally as Seegmiller House as a property of architectural and/or historical significance under The Ontario Heritage Act, 1974, S.O. Chapter 122.

REASON FOR PROPOSED DESIGNATION

The Seegmiller house is recommended for designation for historical and architectural reasons. The house was built by Jacob Seegmiller, a trader and tanner, important to the town of Goderich for ten years before he settled here in 1841. Built in the simple rectangular Georgian style around 1857, the house was soon altered to the present saltbox shape, highly unusual in Goderich. The house is significant for its Georgian proportions, with the smaller second floor windows, its two Cross and Bible doors, one of which is now interior, its original wavy glass window panes, and its unusual saltbox shape.

Notice of objection to the designation may be served on the Town Clerk within thirty days of the 8th day of December 1977.

Dated at Goderich, Ontario this 5th day of December, 1977.

Signed

DEPUTY TOWN CLERK
