Dear Sirs:

RE: Designation of Old Court House and Jail Property
Town of Milton

Pursuant to Section 29, Sub-section 6 of The Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1980, please find enclosed a copy of By-law No. 16-82 designating the property as one of historical and architectural significance. No notices of objection were received to the proposed designation resulting in the By-law being given third and final reading on May 3rd, 1982.

It should now be noted that the Town of Milton has finalized the acquisition of the property from the Region of Halton and is now the official owner of the property. I would request that the Ontario Heritage Foundation now forward to this office the necessary Easement Agreements which the Foundation requires the Town of Milton to enter into. Your immediate attention to this matter would be most appreciated.

Yours truly

SCHEDULE "A" TO BY-LAW No. 16-82

Those lands and premises located in the Town of Milton, in the Regional Municipality of Halton, and being composed of ALL AND SINGULAR THAT certain parcel or tract of lands and premises, situate, lying and being in the Town of Milton (formerly the Township of Trafalgar) and being composed of Part of Lot 13, Concession 2, N.S., more particularly described as being Part 1 on Reference Plan 20R-4492 dated October 18th, 1979 and registered in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of Halton (20).

REASONS FOR THE DESIGNATION:

The former Halton County Courthouse and Jail property at 43 Brown Street is an example of elaborate Baronial Gothic Architecture. The castellated design is one of only three examples of this particular mode in the Province of Ontario.

Designed by the firm of Clark and Murray, and built between 1854 and 1855 by Michael Kenney, the building served as the first Seat of Government for the County of Halton.
