Description

Statement of Significance

Description of Historic Place: i.e. Description of Property	383-395 King Street West is located on the north side of King Street West between Lacroix Street and First Street in the City of Chatham, Municipality of Chatham-Kent. The row of seven, two-storey red-brick residential townhouses were constructed circa 1895.
Heritage Value: i.e. Statement of Cultural Heritage Value or Interest	Historical or Associative Value: 383-395 King Street West is associated with Sylvester Hadley and his son, William, both members of a prominent Chatham family. Sylvester moved to Chatham from Toronto in 1848 after being involved in public improvements, such as building the Yonge Street road through the Holland Landing. After arriving in Chatham he established a lumber mill, the successful S. Hadley Lumber Co., and his extensive purchases of lumber were made on the shores of Lake Huron and Georgian Bay and sold chiefly in Kent County. The success of his planning mill and ample wharfage allowed him to carry on his extensive business. He also served on Town Council for over 30 years and as Mayor from 1884 to 1885. Through Sylvester's influence in both Chatham's industry and politics he was able to involve his ten children in his success. Sylvester's son William was integral in the operation of S. Hadley Lumber Co. and it was through his position there that he was able to secure the means to construct 383-395 King Street West. Maps indicate that in 1875 the Howard &amp; Northwood Brewery and Malthouse was located on the property, however it burnt down in the 1890s. It is believed that William Hadley built these structures in 1895, after the fire. There is some speculation that the row houses on King Street West were built upon the foundation of the Howard &amp; Northwood Brewery malthouse. Since its construction and through to present day the structure has been occupied as residential rental units. In 1956, Judge Clarence Arnold purchased the row houses and split each unit into two, creating the opportunity for more rental space, with the exception of 395 King Street West, which he lived in himself. To date the property has changed hands very few times, having only four owners. Design or Physical Value: 383-395 King Street West is an exceptional example of the Queen Anne style of architecture. Early row housing of this style is rarely found in the Municipality of Chatham-Kent, more commonly seen in larger, cosmopolitan centres. Each townhouse has two floors and an attic, as well as a cellar. The façade of each unit has a bay section with three windows and dormers on the third floor that provide a notable silhouette to the roof line. Their separate front entrances with small front lawns make for unique entranceways. The last unit, 395 King Street West is indicative of the interior floor plan of the row houses. It has a double dormer as the unit had to be built in a mirror image to the others in order to provide a termination to the row of housing. Contextual Value: Located prominently on the north side of King Street West, 383-395 King Street West is located in close proximity to Chatham's downtown core and surrounded by a rich array of architectural styles that reflect the era and quality of its construction. The west side of the property is flanked by the Thames River, providing picturesque views for its tenants of the natural landscape. Sources: A Cyclopaedia of Canadian Biography: Being Chiefly Men of a Time, 1886. Character-Defining Elements: i.e. Description of Heritage Attributes	Exterior character defining elements that contribute to the value of 383-395 King Street West include its: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- row of seven two-storey townhouses</li> <li>- red-brick exterior</li> <li>- series of conjoined gable roofs</li> <li>- three-paned attic windows, painted the original red colour</li> <li>- dormer windows</li> <li>- decorative wooden shingles and brackets on the gable</li> <li>- typical Queen Anne style corner brackets above the side windows of the bay</li> <li>- original doors with transom</li> <li>- later Colonial Revival trim with broken pediment and finial above the doors</li> <li>- rod iron fencing spanning the width of the property</li> </ul> Characteristics that contribute to the contextual value of 383-395 King Street
