BY-LAW NO. 3419-91

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION
BATTLEFIELD HOUSE, MONUMENT AND PARK
77 KING STREET WEST

The Stoney Creek Battlefield Site and its environs is the most significant historical site in Stoney Creek. Because of its inherent archaeological value the entire site consisting of the Battlefield House, Monument and Park needs to be protected so as to preserve the integrity of archaeological and historical remains yet to be unearthed on the site. The designation also serves to ensure that the site's development is appropriate.

Battlefield House

Battlefield House was constructed about 1796, first as a rough-hewn log house, and later as a storey-and-a-half frame house, it was the home of the widow Mary Jones Gage and her two children, James and Elizabeth, who had journeyed to the area from New York State in 1790.

On June 5, 1813, the Gage residence was forced to become the headquarters for the invading American troops who had occupied the house. Generals Winder and Chandler and a force of several thousand U.S. soldiers marching toward the capital at York had camped there for the night. During the evening a 19 year old local lad, Billy Green, warned the British forces at Burlington Heights and successfully led a party of about 700 British regulars under the leadership of Col. John Harvey in a night attack on the U.S. troops.

In the ensuing skirmish both U.S. generals were captured and the invading forces put to flight as they retreated to Fort George. The Battle of Stoney Creek is regarded by many historians as a significant turning point in the War of 1812 as it marks the furthest extent of American advance into Upper Canada during the conflict.

At various times, Battlefield House has been funded by the Women's Wentworth Historical Society and the Niagara Parks Commission.

Stylistically the Battlefield House represents the Georgian colonial home. It is a two-storey frame structure of uncluttered design with symmetrically balanced windows and door openings. Atypical of the Georgian style are the twelve over twelve multi-paned sash windows with flat window heads. The steep roof, large chimney and verandah are other noteworthy features. Important to the preservation of the Battlefield House are the original features of all four facades, including the verandah, the original windows, shutters and doorways, the roof and chimneys.

Battlefield Monument

On June 6, 1913, the stone monument erected at the site by the Dominion Government to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the battle, was dedicated.

The monument is unique in Canada. It has a height of 30.5 meters and is constructed of Queenston limestone. The architect of the monument was Edward Rastrick of Hamilton and it is a copy of the Nelson Monument, Calton Hill, Edinburgh. It was completed in 1913. Important to the preservation of the monument are the original stone facades, entrances and windows. Also important to preservation is the interior stairway which allows visitors access to the top of the tower, as does the interior staircase.
