STATEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE VALUE AND DESCRIPTION OF HERITAGE ATTRIBUTES

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value

140 Erie Avenue, containing a two and one-half storey brick residential building, possesses cultural heritage value due to its architectural and historical associations. Built in 1900, the building with hipped roof and decorative brick detailing is a well-preserved example of Queen Anne style architecture, retaining virtually all of its original architectural features, including windows and transom lights. Historically, the building is a reminder of the residential growth patterns in the City of Hamilton at the end of the nineteenth and early of the twentieth centuries. It continues to contribute to the overall residential streetscape on Erie Avenue.

Description of Heritage Attributes

All four elevations and the hipped roof, including all four brick facades, the window and door openings, the wood eaves on all sides, together with all construction materials and all component features and detailing.
