REASONS FOR DESIGNATION700 Pond Mills RoadHistorical Reasons

The property at 700 Pond Mills Road was comprised of thirty nine acres which included parts of Lot 18 and 19, Concession I, Westminster Township. The south portion of Lot 18, Concession I was purchased by Adam Baty in 1829 at the same time as Adam and his brother, Robert, purchased the Water Mill. In 1842 Adam purchased the north portion of Lot 18, Concession I. Both Adam and Robert occupied the house that was on the property but has since been demolished. In 1900 Adam Baty, the grandson of Robert Baty, purchased the north portion of Lot 19, Concession II from Charles Stewart, also an early settler of the Pond Mills area. This property included the house now known as the Baty House at 700 Pond Mills Road. The house became the home of Wellington Baty, who passed the property on to his son, Robert. Members of the Baty family continued to live there until the mid-1950's.

The Baty family were important in the life of the Pond Mills area, socially and economically, from the early 1830's. According to census records they were freehold farmers, carpenters, boatbuilders and early mill owners. In partnership with their neighbour, John F. Elliot, the Baty family gifted land for the Presbyterian Church built in 1855 and replaced in 1880. This church still serves the community as a United Church. The family played an important role in the life of the church since its inception as choir directors, members of the choir and organists. The family was also involved in the official establishment of the Pond Mills Cemetery. Although the first burials were recorded in 1825, the Batys conveyed parts of Lot 18, Concession I to the Cemetery Board in 1854, 1890, 1891 and 1920. Adam Baty served on the Cemetery Board for thirty-three years. Most of the Baty family are buried in the cemetery.

Pond Mills has been a natural recreation area over the years providing swimming, boating and fishing in the summer and skating in the winter. In the early years no one was allowed to skate on the ponds until Adam Baty declared the ice safe.

Architectural Reasons

700 Pond Mills Road is a one-and-a-half storey white brick, three bay Ontario farmhouse built circa 1865. The half loop bargeboard and a finial in the gable are both still intact and there is an elegant gothic window in the gable. Although several window sills have been replaced, the windows are original. The door frame is still in place but the door has been recently changed. It is apparent that the frame included a transom and sidelights.

Cultural Reasons

The house backs onto the North Pond and is close to the site of the original Water Mill and the Pond Mills Cemetery. It is an important remnant of the original settlement of Pond Mills.
