THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF COBOURG

SCHEDULE 'A'

AND IN THE MATTER of the title to all Lot 12 on Stuart Street, and part of Lots 12 and 13 on Burnham Street, and part of Lot 13 on Stuart Street, all in Block "A" formerly Township Lot 20, Concession A, Township of Hamilton, now Town of Cobourg, County of Northumberland.

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

199 Stuart Street

This red brick, two-storey house is unique in that it was built in an L-shaped design, a contrast to other houses built in that era. Assessment records reveal that it was constructed in approximately 1885. The front door faces the south side yard but is protected by a fully enclosed frame and glazing veranda, the door of which faces the street.

The gable roof is peaked at the front of the house and contains elaborate closed work bargeboard near the top. The rear portion of the roof line is also gabled, but runs at right angles to the roof of the front portion, thus maintaining the required design.

There are four ample-sized 2 x 2 windows at the front, each having a curved framework to accommodate the stylish glazing. The rough cut stone foundation provides a dry basement, however the floor level does not allow for tall people.
