Dear Professor S. F. Wise:

The Council of The Corporation of the City of Ottawa on the 19th day of February 1986, enacted By-Laws Number 41-86, 42-86, 43-86 and thereby designated the properties known municipally as 77 Gloucester Street, 245-251 Nepean Street and 149 Somerset Street West in the City of Ottawa pursuant to The Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1980, c.337.

Enclosed herewith are certified copies of By-Laws Number 41-86, 42-86, 43-86 and the Notices of Designating By-Laws served according to the Act.

IN THE MATTER OF the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O.
1980, c. 337;

AND IN THE MATTER OF the lands and premises known municipally as 77 Gloucester Street in the City of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario.

NOTICE OF DESIGNATING BY-LAW

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Ottawa on the 19th day of February, 1986, enacted By-law Number 41-86 designating; the lands and buildings known municipally as 77 Gloucester Street as a property of historical value or interest under the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 337.

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR THE DESIGNATION:

The house at 77 Gloucester Street, built in 1872, for timber dealer Richard Nagle, is of historic significance because it is the oldest surviving residential structure identified in Centretown. While hundreds of such dwellings once existed within a few blocks of Parliament
Hill, today 77 Gloucester is the only remaining example.

This house is also of historic interest because of its association with Richard Nagle (1829-1896), who worked in the square timber business and went on to become one of the region's most successful dealers in timber limits.

Of some architectural interest, the house is a modest example of the Italianate style popular at that time, marked by heavy wooden brackets under the eaves, and the double rounded-headed windows in the central bay of the façade.

A copy of this by-law may be obtained at the office of the City Clerk.

DATED at Ottawa this 14th day of March, 1986.

J. R. CYR
City Clerk
