SCHEDULE "B"

"Martineau's Hotel, 47-61 Murray Street is recommended for designation for architectural and historical value. Built in 1871-1872 by Eugene Martineau, merchant, alderman, and Mayor of Ottawa during 1872-1873, the building has been in use since its construction as a hotel and boarding house. The Hotel's vernacular simplicity and limestone exterior are expressive of an architectural tradition in Ottawa originating with the stone masons of the Rideau Canal. The regular proportions, roof design, and corner quoins are reminiscent of historic Georgian-classical traditions, lingering on in Ottawa well into the otherwise Victorian nineteenth century. Hotels such as this were a significant element in the commerce of Lowertown during this period, providing accommodation, refreshment and entertainment for transients, particularly lumbermen of the thriving timber industry."

1974, Statutes of Ontario, 1974, Chapter
122;
