SHORT STATEMENT OF THE REASONS FOR

THE PROPOSED DESIGNATION

The Erindale Presbyterian Church (formerly the Springfield Methodist Church) is listed on the Mississauga Heritage Inventory and recommended for designation for its architectural and historical importance. Architecturally, the Church is a fine example of rural Victorian Gothic architecture. Of particular note are the generously large, lancet windows lighting the sides, the front and the tower; the dichromatic brick work, and the tower. Historically, the Church, constructed in 1877 by Christopher Bamford of Streetsville and the first church built by the Methodist congregation in Springfield (later Erindale), is one of the few prominent reminders of the 19th century village of Springfield. Situated on a rise east of the Credit River, the Church continues to be a landmark on Dundas Street.
