SCHEDULE "A" TO BY-LAW NO. 482-97

SHORT STATEMENT OF THE REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

The property located at 1775 Bristol Road, formerly the RiverCrest Gallery and formerly the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, is recommended for heritage designation for reasons of its historical and architectural value.

The church structure when first built was a vernacular interpretation of the Gothic Revival style, typical of the first half of the nineteenth century. The one-storey, red brick church has a recent flat-roofed chancel extension, at the south, and a gable-roofed, one-bay porch extension at the north. The body of the original church is three bays long, on stone foundations, with a full basement. The gable roof is medium-pitched, with boxed eaves, a narrow frieze, and cornice return blocks on both north gables.

The nave body has four pilaster-like strip wall buttresses. The north extension has an external chimney. Windows have tall pointed heads, double-hung sashes, wood lugsills, radiating brick voussiors, and delicate switch line tracery over sixteen-above-twelve panes.

Historically the Church was the first Roman Catholic church built in Streetsville, St. Joseph's Church was consecrated on July 18, 1858 by Bishop de Charbonnel. A fire in the chancel in 1985 caused the church to be no longer used for services. A new church was built in another location and the old church converted to private ownership and retrofitted as an art gallery.
