Dear Sir:

Re: By-laws 504-77; 517-77;
and 521-77
File 178-78

I enclose for your information certified copies of three City of Mississauga By-laws, numbers 504-77; 517-77; and 521-77, designating buildings to be of architectural value and of historic interest.

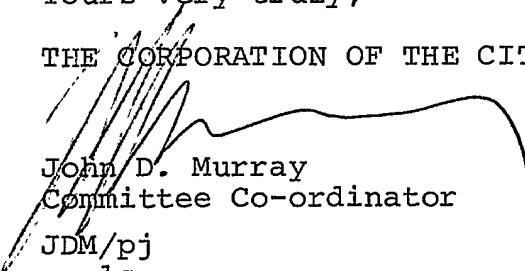

By-law 504-77 designates the Hansa House located on the west side of Hurontario Street south of Derry Road; By-law 517-77 designates the Robinson-Adamson House, 1921 Dundas Street West in Mississauga; By-law 521-77 designates the "Timothy Street House" 41 Mill Street in Mississauga.

I regret the delay in forwarding copies of these by-laws to your attention; however, there was a problem in the registration. The owners of these properties have already received a copy of the appropriate by-law.

I trust the above information is satisfactory.

Yours very truly,

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF MISSISSAUGA

John D. Murray

SCHEDULE "A" TO
BY-LAW NO. 517-77 OF THE CITY OF MISSISSAUGA

Reasons for the designation of The Robinson-Adamson House, 1921 Dundas Street West.

The Robinson-Adamson House is recommended for designation on the architectural grounds that it is a particularly fine example of a Regency cottage with its elegant trim and gracious proportions. It is historically important as the summer residence of John Beverley Robinson (about 1830) who was then Attorney-General of the Province of Upper Canada and later Chief Justice and the President of the Executive Council. Robinson was a major figure in the history of the province.
